Notes from mockup review:
Designer: Lena Viersen
Art Director: Courtney Huang

- Both options look nice but could see there being problems with transition from desktop to mobile view on the first option.
- ^^tree illustration in first option cool but the text wrap could get weird and where is tree going to go when u switch to mobile view
- Second option – I like the floating frog illustration, would prefer if there were no background/border around the photo and they were like floating illustrations
- Good switch of having illustrations go above text when switching to mobile view for mockup b.
- I like the color scheme, and nav bar at the top so you can jump to different parts of the page.
- I like the typeface selection
- We're going to move forward with mockup b.
